OKLAHOMA OFFICERS MAKING EFFORTS TO CAPTURE OUTLAW

BELIEVED TO BE HIDING ON RANCH NEAR TARLETON, SOUTHWEST MANFORD

By Associated Press.
Tulsa, Okla., June 16.—Officers from four towns at daybreak today resumed the hunt for Matthew Kimes, notorious Oklahoma outlaw, who Tuesday unwittingly kidnapped a baby while stealing a car at Oilton and later captured the city marshal of Jennings, strapping him to a tree with his own belt. Kimes was believed to be in the vicinity of McElroy school house on a ranch near Teriton, about eight miles southwest of Manford.

A posse of officers who yesterday found the deserted car stolen kept watch in the woods until after midnight last night. They believed that the outlaw was sleeping and retired to their homes to resume the hunt again this morning.

DARING YOUNGSTER FLIES TO CAPITAL AND BACK THURSDAY

HOPPED OFF FROM NEW YORK AT 3:03 AND RETURN-ED AT 7:57 THIS MORNING

By Associated Press.
Roosevelt Field, N. Y., June 16.—Colonel Lindbergh and an accompanying party in an automobile arrived at Roosevelt Field a little after 4 o'clock this afternoon.

In the crush of persons waiting to see him, six fainted. The flier was given a tremendous ovation by a crowd of many thousands.

By Associated Press.
Mitchell Field, N. Y., June 16.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, who flew to Washington for his "Spirit of St. Louis" in the wee small hours of the morning, returned with the other half of his famous "we" at 7:57 this morning (daylight time).

The round trip was made in less than five hours. He hopped off from here in a borrowed army pursuit plane and a borrowed outfit at 3:03 o'clock, and arriving at Bolling Field, Washington at 4:44 a. m. (daylight time) leaped from the plane to his beloved "Spirit of St. Louis" and took off again for New York at 5:00.

The flight again demonstrated the amazing ability of the youthful flier to do without sleep. He had slept until noon yesterday but from then on the day was a continual whirl of luncheons, receptions and theater parties for him. Today he seemed to take a short nap before beginning another crowded program of activities that was to start at 10:30 a. m.

Attending Midnight Show.
Lindbergh was attending a midnight show at the Rialto Theater, given as a benefit for the dependents of the missing French fliers, Nungesser and Coli, when he apparently reached a sudden decision to get his plane which has been left behind in Washington due to engine trouble. Unknown to most of the 6,000 persons in the theater, Lindbergh, accompanied by Grover Whalen, chairman of the Mayor's committee, and Captain J. R. Blythe, his personal representative, left the theater at 2 o'clock and entered their automobile.

Newspaper men who did the trailing of Lindbergh since his entrance into the city, who thought he was returning to his temporary apartment in Park avenue and were caught unaware when his machine unexpectedly turned in an opposite direction. Lindbergh took the wheel of the car himself and soon out-distanced the reporters.

When they saw the machine heading towards the Queensborough bridge they knew he was bound for one of the flying fields on Long Island and arrived here just as he was about to take off.

Lindbergh greeted them with a broad grin. "Well," he said, "I gave you the slip that time."

Borrowing Flying Clothes.
He had been dressed in full evening clothes but over this had put on a flying suit borrowed from the field commandant. He also had borrowed a helmet and goggles.

"I'll be back in time to keep all my engagements today," he called. The motor whirled, the plane started down the field and in a few minutes he was out of sight.

He was accompanied to Washington by Lieutenant Sinclair Street in another army plane. On his return trip here Lindbergh was accompanied by Lieutenant Commanders Wick and Miles of the navy.

Lindbergh has before him another extended schedule that will keep rushing about New York City until late tonight. With a brief rest plans to leave for St. Louis at midnight, or if that is not feasible, early tomorrow so that he may be in his home city at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. Lindbergh Has Arrived St. Louis

By Associated Press.
St. Louis, Mo., June 16.—Mrs. Evangeline Lodge Lindbergh, mother of the trans-Atlantic flier, arrived here late today in a private railroad car and was taken immediately to the home of Harry F. Knight, to remain until the arrival of her famous son tomorrow. The car was switched to within a few blocks of the Knight home in St. Louis county.

FEARED CONCERTED WARNING MAY BRING NATIONAL ACTION

EXPECTED, HOWEVER, THAT SOVIETS WILL BE TOLD TO CEASE ACTIVITIES

By Associated Press.
London, June 16.—Fear of arousing Russian nationalistic feeling to a dangerous point has caused abandonment of the plan for a concerted warning by the European powers against further Communist propaganda abroad and alleged terrorism by the Soviets at home.

In considering the original declaration, the foreign ministers now in Geneva, for the League of Nations Council are said to have concluded that formal collective action of the nature contemplated might create the impression in Moscow that a united front was being formed against the Soviet Union.

Poland is understood to have been the guiding spirit in advising against angering Russia by even an appearance of hostility, emphasizing that such an attitude would serve to intensify the Russian national spirit in the same manner as it was aroused at the close of the great war by military interventions.

Stressmann May Act.
Nevertheless, according to the Geneva information, there is every likelihood that the German foreign minister, Dr. Gustave Stresemann, following up informal conversations on the subject with M. Tschircher, Russian Commissar, will act in a friendly way that these activities are militating against Russia.

The German newspapers, while declaring it is the Moscow government's duty to repudiate the activities of the Third International, print warnings to Dr. Stresemann that he is in imminent danger of finding himself in the lineup of anti-Soviet nations.

The proposed conference to consider the Russian problem is welcomed by the Socialist organ Vorwarts on condition that Russia is invited. The paper expressed the belief that it would be an auspicious omen if Germany were permitted to assume the role of mediator.

Little War Preparations.
The Russian newspapers, according to dispatches from Moscow, are laying stress on the necessity of preparing for a foreign war, which they say is a prospect facing the country. But from all appearances, it is declared, the warnings are attracting little attention, with no evidence of recruiting, drilling or military activity.

Notwithstanding all sorts of sensational reports printed in papers concerning Russian internal affairs, direct dispatches from Moscow say all is quiet, with the population seemingly permitting nothing to interfere with their usual routine and summer pastimes. There are descriptions of crowded streets, parks, theaters and motion picture houses, and of trains loaded from the city with pleasure seekers on the way to the favorite Crimean resorts.

It is stated the recent assassination in Warsaw of Mr. Volkoff, the Soviet Minister, and the resultant exchange of notes between Moscow and Warsaw have not evoked as much comment as the break in Anglo-Soviet relations.

MOTHER-IN-LAW IS SLAIN; GUN TURNED ON SELF BY FARMER

TRAGEDY OCCURRED SIX-TEEN MILES NORTH HENDER-SON WEDNESDAY NIGHT

By Associated Press.
Henderson, Texas, June 16.—After shooting and fatally wounding Mrs. James English, his mother-in-law, George Everett, 30, farmer, living 16 miles north of here, last night turned a rifle upon himself, ending his own life.

The shooting occurred at the home of Mrs. English following a family quarrel. Mrs. English died seven hours later.

Everett, according to W. L. McMurray, sheriff of Rusk county, went to the English home where Mrs. Everett and her child were. A quarrel began and Mrs. Everett suddenly left the room. Everett, the sheriff said, fired upon Mrs. English and turned to pursue his wife and child. Failing to overtake them he turned the rifle upon himself, and ended his life.

DE PINEDO ENDS FOUR CONTINENT FLIGHT THURSDAY

GIVEN TUMULTUOUS WEL-COME AT OSTIA; GREETED BY MUSSOLINI IN PERSON

By Associated Press.
Rome, June 16.—Commander Francesco De Pinedo, Italian aviator, arrived at Ostia, on the coast near Rome at 5 o'clock this afternoon completing his sensational four continent flight.

He was greeted by immense cheering crowds and officially welcomed by Premier Mussolini and other dignitaries.

The safe arrival of Commander Francesco De Pinedo at Ostia completes a brilliant flight that carried the noted aviator and his two companions from Italy to Africa, South America, the United States, Canada, New Foundland, the Azores, Portugal, Spain and finally home.

The flight, which began at Cagliari, Sardinia, on February 13, and took the aviator over great stretches of difficult territory, was marred by only two untoward incidents. The first was when his original seaplane, the Santa Maria, was destroyed by fire at Roosevelt Dam, Arizona, on April 6, when a boy tossed a lighted match thoughtlessly into the oil covered waters. The next was when his second plane, shipped to the United States by the Italian government, was forced to descend some distance off the Azores, by shortage of gasoline.

THREE YEAR OLD CHILD DROWNED IN SHALLOW WATER

By Associated Press.
Arlene, Texas, June 16.—Billy Stephens, three-year-old son of George E. Stephens, a telephone lineman, was drowned at Clyde, near here, Wednesday afternoon in a shallow tank.

The drowning occurred while the child's mother and others of the community were attending a canning demonstration at the home of Mrs. H. G. Sherrill. The boy wandered out in the yard, was missed in half an hour and afterward found in the tank. Efforts to resuscitate him failed.

RANGE CONDITIONS HAVE BEEN BAD IN WEST PART TEXAS

By Associated Press.

Houston, Texas, June 15.—Supplementing his June 1 livestock and range report, showing considerable deterioration in the conditions of both, due to drought, H. H. Schultz, government statistician here, points to the coast section as the only portion of Texas where moisture is plentiful and grass is abundant, except in a few small areas.

The situation is offset, however, by the fact that the range is understocked, owing to inability to get stockers at an acceptable price. Buyers are many but sellers are few. Mr. Schultz has found, and adds that cattle are fat but scarce in numbers. The calf crop, his reporters say, is the best in many years, not only in numbers saved, but in quality and condition as well. Here and there in this area screw worms have caused a few losses and a few cases of loin disease and tick fever have developed.

Other sections, Mr. Schultz finds, have not been so fortunate. In the plains district moisture is badly needed. A few localities have been without rain since October and consequently grass and row crops have not made much progress. It follows that the prospects for the summer range are poor. Cattle, meanwhile, he learns, have been holding up fairly well but it has become necessary either to feed cake or old grass or ship to better pastures. Young calves are many. They had a good start but are at a standstill now. Mother cows are shrinking fast. The unfavorable outlook has slowed up local trading and restocking. Late reports of local showers may, however, bring some improvement in the general situation.

Dry In Some Sections
In West Central Texas, it appears that the range in a few instances is very dry. On others the grass is still green but more moisture would be beneficial. Cattle generally are in good condition, calves are thrifty and some restocking is being done, principally by holding the young heifers on the range.

The range in East Texas but more rain is needed to make good summer feed. Indeed, in some localities it is estimated that the range is already above normal. Cattle are fattening, although flies and screw worms have been bothersome. The calf crop is better than usual. In East Texas pastures are ample for more cattle but stockers prices have seemed too high for safe buying. Grass steers fed on cake are beginning to move to market with the shipments including more young stuff than usual. The total movement, however, is expected to be smaller than last year.

In West Texas rain is needed in almost every locality to keep grass growing and to fill water tanks. Old grass is ample which with a good mesquite bean crop probably will tide the stock over until July when the usual rainfall period begins. As a rule cattle are holding up well but on a few ranches where grass is getting short they are shrinking fast and preparations are being made to feed cake. The calf crop is large. With moisture in a few weeks mother cows should give more milk and their calves do well.

In nearly every section in South Texas the range is getting very dry. In some of the border counties where there is a serious deficiency of moisture, grass is becoming very short and stock water is reported low in a number of places. Feed crops and cotton are making poor progress but a general rain within the next 30 days would be very beneficial and possibly assure summer grass. Except where it is very dry, all spring cattle are reported in fair shape but will shrink badly if quiet does not come soon. Some ranchers are shipping out to better pastures while others are depending upon the bean crop and brush to carry their stock until rain comes. Young calves are numerous and are doing well except where screw worms have been bad. Meanwhile restocking is at a standstill, as everything is dependent upon more moisture.

As for sheep and goats, they have been less affected by adverse range conditions than cattle in West Central Texas, the principal producing area in this state. While weeds have matured and grass is beginning to brown, brush is still very good. The lamb crop is turning out well but losses have been unusually heavy from screw worms. The wool clipped is of extra quality and sales have been about the same as in 1926 with a large proportion of the clip already in dealers' hands. A few extra high quality 12-month clips have been sold as high as 22 cents per pound.

DELINQUENT TAX COLLECTOR WOULD REAP BIG HARVEST

Special to the Sun.
Groesbeck, Texas, June 14.—With county commissioners divided on the issue an interesting discussion is promised at the county court session this week when C. H. Machen, attorney for R. D. DeWitt, delinquent tax expert, presents a report for the latter asking for issuance of more warrants in payment for the "block system" work.

Mr. DeWitt, through his attorney, will invite the commissioners to inspect his work thus far and will outline more in detail the purpose of the system of complete maps of every plat of land in Limestone county for the benefit of commissioners who took office since the contract was made.

When it was discovered that $500,000 in delinquent taxes will be reported up to last February 1, giving DeWitt a commission of $125,000 on his one-fourth under terms of a contract, a protest went up from citizens and some commissioners. A settlement is expected to be made with the firm for completion of the work. Neither DeWitt or the officials had any way of knowing half a million dollars was over due, observers pointed out, and an adjustment in favor of the county is expected to be made.

Market For Cornstarch.
Future prospects for the sale of American cornstarch are reported to be fairly good, depending to a large extent on whether Czechoslovak competition can be successfully met on the Austrian market. Austria consumes about 4,000 tons of cornstarch annually, much of which is imported from the United States.

GENERAL LABOR IN TEXAS FACES SLUMP IN NUMBER OF JOBS

By Associated Press.

Fort Worth, Texas, June 15.—As a result of a number of unusual conditions which have brought abnormal employment situation, Texas will need no outside labor to assist in harvesting its wheat crop this year. C. W. Woodman, assistant director of the United States Farm Labor Bureau, said here.

In conjunction with other bureaus of the Department of Labor, Woodman's office is sending out notices warning the transient laborers who usually pour into the State at this time of year to remain away until they have received notices of changed conditions and can be assigned to points needing laborers.

The drought through the wheat belt, which reports indicate has reached alarming proportions, is the principal cause of the slight demand for harvest hands, according to Woodman, who cited a letter from A. F. Barkley, Spearman, who declared that "crops are very short" in Hansford, Hutchinson, and Ochiltree counties and that "what wheat will be harvested can be taken care of by local men and trucks."

Earlier in the season the Spearman Chamber of Commerce had requested that 1,000 men and 300 trucks be sent into its territory to work harvest fields.

The Mississippi Valley floods likewise have had an adverse effect on normal labor conditions, causing hundreds of refugees to come to Texas and clog the regular employment channels. Woodman said, pointing out that probably 200 persons who said they were from the Mississippi area had been served through his office and that doubtless many others likewise applied for employment in other Texas bureaus.

In a harvest bulletin sent out by the central office of the farm labor division, Department of Labor, Kansas City, growing use of the combine was stressed as causing smaller demand than usual for harvest hands.

Finally, building depressions in a number of cities have sent a large number of men to the farms to fill jobs ordinarily reserved for the transients, Woodman believes.

The situation will not be clarified until cotton work picks up, in Woodman's opinion.

RANGERS EXPECTED MAKE ARRESTS FOR RECENT FLOGGINGS

By Associated Press.

Marshall, Texas, June 16.—Two Texas Rangers left here shortly before noon for the neighborhood in which members of two families were flogged last week. The officers intended before leaving that they might make as many as six arrests in connection with the whippings.

The special grand jury which has been called to investigate the floggings will convene Friday. A third Texas Ranger is expected to day.

NOTED DESPERADO TIES UP OFFICER AND MAKES ESCAPE

By Associated Press.

Tulsa, Okla., June 15.—After tying the marshal of Jennings, Okla., and stealing a motor car in which a two-year-old child was sleeping, Matthew Kimes, notorious young bank bandit today was the object of one of the most extensive man hunts in the history of the state.

Kimes apparently had eluded the officers this morning, having been chased to Hominy, Osage county, by Pawnee county possemen.

He headed for the Osage hills late last night after stealing the automobile at Oilton, Creek county, late last night.

George MaAninch, marshal at Jennings was captured by Kimes late last night when he attempted to stop the outlaw, speeding through the little town. Kimes, the MaAninch to a tree and continued on his way. It was MaAninch who identified his captor as Kimes.

The bandit stole an automobile belonging to Orville E. Noble of Drumwright, shortly after Noble and his wife drove up to the home of a friend at Oilton for a visit. Kimes apparently did not notice the two-year-old son of the Nobles, lying asleep on the back seat. The child was found soon afterward, a vacant lot two blocks from where the car was stolen, still sound asleep.

All Officers Notified
All officers in Northeastern Oklahoma were notified of the theft of the car. They then did not realize it was Matthew Kimes who was their prey. It was Marshal MaAninch who made the discovery.

MaAninch received word that the bandit was headed toward Jennings. He got into his small car, and out on the Keystone road toward Mansford.

With him in another car went a man named Morris. Both blocked their cars across the road and waited the approach of the bandit's larger car.

When the car came along it stopped, and MaAninch walked up to it. Morris watching from his car thought MaAninch had arrested his man when the officer got into the car with the bandit. Morris drove back to Jennings.

Officer Taken Prisoner
A few minutes later, he and others saw the car speed through Jennings. MaAninch apparently a prisoner.

The bandit drove to a point about mid-way between Mannford and Terling, then stopped and ordered the marshal out.

Kimes tied MaAninch to a tree. He fastened the officer's feet with MaAninch's revolver belt and removed the marshal's trouser belt and tied it around his arms. Then Kimes laid MaAninch's revolver on the ground in front of the imprisoned man and continued on his way toward the Osage hills.

MaAninch worked himself free between 4 and 5 o'clock this morning, and went to the home of a farmer and called Jennings to let his wife and friends know he was safe. Then the officer resumed the pursuit, joining a Pawnee county posse.

The chase was continued with renewed vigor this morning when Kimes was reported as having been seen in Pawnee county just across the river from Osage county.

Although he was seen in Hominy, Osage county, later in the morning, the posse lost his trail there.

A few days ago a bandit declared by officers to be Kimes, stole a large motor car from the streets of Pawhuska, forcing its owner to accompany him. He escaped into the wooded Osage hills after being forced to abandon the car when pursuit became too hot.

Kimes is wanted for about a half dozen bank robberies and two murder charges.
He escaped from the Sequoyia county jail while awaiting a new trial on a charge of killing Perry Chuculate, Indian deputy sheriff, and has been at large since last fall. Several weeks ago he led a band of men into his home town, Beggs, and robbed two banks of about $18,000. W. J. McAnally, Beggs chief of police, was killed in an encounter with the outlaw.

RUSSIA IS FEARED AS DISTURBER FOR EUROPE AT PRESENT

By Associated Press.

Geneva, Switzerland, June 15.—Statesmen attending the League of Nations council meeting here are reported increasingly convinced that the time has imperatively arrived to take preventive steps to avert an outbreak of war in Europe. Fear of such an eventuality is mainly inspired by the reported attitude of Soviet Russia following the break of diplomatic relations by Great Britain and the assassination of the Soviet Minister to Poland.

In Southern Europe another situation presents itself through the break of relations between Yugoslavia and Albania.

Germany to Join Plan.
The Associated Press learns that Germany has virtually been brought over to the camp of those powers who favor warning Russia against continuance of her alleged propaganda abroad and terrorism at home.

If this warning is delivered jointly by the powers, which is a possibility, it will not be worded as a menace to the Soviet system but will be drafted from the viewpoint that Europe cannot risk another war and the powers are united in the sense that any aggressor is the enemy of all.

An Viscount Ishii of Japan is participating in the discussions. It is believed the examination of the situation includes consideration of the repression to the alleged communistic activities in the Far East.

Foreign Minister Stresemann of Germany is profoundly anxious to avoid any appearance of "forging a hostile ring of steel around Russia" and will presumably only promise German support to a general anti-war movement.

Germany in Bad Position.
Germany has a special national interest in preventing any armed outbreak between the European peoples and Russia. She subscribed to the Locarno pact on the understanding that German soil would not be utilized for the passage of troops moving against Russia, but as a member of the League of Nations she would find herself greatly embarrassed in preventing the operation of military penalties against any state which refused arbitration and resorted to hostilities. In view of the recent speech of Myron T. Herrick, American Ambassador to France, in which he scored Communistic propaganda, it is asked here whether the United States would join any movement toward meeting what the European statesmen refer as the "communitic danger."

Senators Cling To Traditional Snuff
By Associated Press.
Washington.—The Senate holds tenaciously to its precedents, and the maintenance of an adequate supply of snuff for its members is one of them.
Two small, black embossed metallic snuff boxes resting on the wainscoting of the Senate chamber on each side of the Vice President's dais have attracted few devotees in recent decades of the once elegant custom of snuff taking. But when the Senate extension of the Capitol was constructed shortly before the Civil War, they were regarded as necessary for the convenience of the members, nearly all of whom were using snuff, and to this day one of the duties of the pages is to make sure that the boxes are supplied with the powdered tobacco.
Despite the passing of the habit from common use, efforts to have the boxes removed have been resisted by a large majority on the ground that it was a Senate custom and should be honored.

ELEVENTH AVENUE BAPTIST REVIVAL GAINS INTEREST

The services at the Eleventh Avenue Baptist church yesterday were very much enjoyed by all that attended. Old time singing, and a special song at the close of the night service by Elder R. B. Key, which was something for everyone to listen to, and take the meaning straight home. The name of the song was "The Love." Our pastor made a splendid talk on this text "Be Sure Your Sins Will Find You Out." We will only have one more day service this week which will be Friday morning at 10 o'clock. We do wish that we might have your presence at all services.

Remember you have paved streets all the way to the door of our church which is located on the corner of Fourteenth Street and West Eleventh Avenue. Evening services begin at 7:30. Be sure to come and help with the singing. —REPORTER.

S. P. Lines Assisted Red Cross in Flood

"The crest of the flood on both the Mississippi and Atchafalaya has now passed the Southern Pacific main line and the waters are receding," J. H. Evetts, local commercial agent for the Southern Pacific Lines stated Thursday.

Continuing Mr. Evetts said: "The road bed remains in first class condition and all traffic is being handled on normal schedules and without delays. By the end of this month, a large portion of the submerged cultivated areas in Atchafalaya Basin and adjoining the Southern Pacific lines will be out of water and in condition to permit planting of late crops. We have handled all business offerings including that of the Missouri Pacific, Texas and Pacific and the Gulf Coast Lines and have assisted the Red Cross in evacuating thousands of refugees from flooded areas with hundreds of cars of household effects and live stock."

In Memory Of Emmett A. Winters

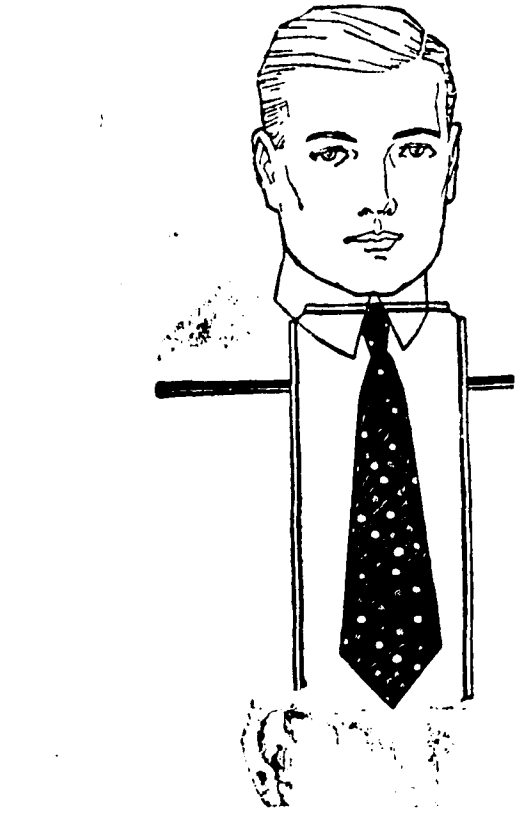

Emmett A. Winters died at his home in Houston, 1512 Goodwin Street at 3:53 o'clock, Friday May 13, 1927.

Funeral services were held in Houston, Friday afternoon, and his body was sent to Corsicana Friday night and interred in the Baptist cemetery at 4 o'clock at Bazzette.

Saturday afternoon, Rev. Bass Kerens held services at the Baptist church at that place.

His sister, Mrs. Lula McKinney of Powell, Miss Aline McCullough of Roane, Mrs. Dessie McGraw of Houston with his wife and only son, accompanied the remains to Corsicana.

His brother, J. A. Winters of San Antonio, also attended the funeral services. He was born at Nashville, Tenn., July 10, 1879 and came to Navarro county with his parents at an early age.

and before 4 o'clock he had passed away. With only a few minutes of suffering he was relieved, and was at rest. I feel that he was truly at rest for I believe that no human who was not fully prepared could face death as bravely as he did.

He was united with the Church of Christ at twenty years of age, and after his marriage he was united with the Baptist.

When any of the members of the church went to see him he would always ask them to pray. One lady asked him what kind of a prayer he wanted her to offer. He asked her to pray that he could only say: "God's will be done." He was ready to go although with all the trials on this earth, life was sweet to him.

He was always jovial and enjoyed living, but when his time came he was ready to go.

Isn't this a wonderful consolation to his loved ones? His wife and son returned to their home in Houston. It was a sad and dreary return without father and husband to greet them but they have that great hope that there is a home that is waiting for them where they will join him and there will be no more partings and no more sorrows.

—A LOVED ONE.

In Loving Remembrance

The Death Angel visited the home of Mrs. D. N. Green of Hope, well and claimed their dear mother, Mrs. L. A. Bates. She leaves to mourn her loss, seven children and a number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren and friends.

The children are as follows: T. S. Bates of Angus, C. W. Bates of Chatfield, Mrs. D. N. Green of Hope, Mrs. J. T. Frazier of Corsicana, Mrs. Willie Fair of Hope, Mrs. W. P. Pharis of Burk Burnett, Mrs. R. J. Mosley of Crockett.

Mrs. Bates was 74 years old, born and reared in Texas. She was laid to rest in the Hamilton cemetery to await the Resurrection morn.

Weep not for her dear loved ones for she is not dead but asleep in Jesus. We miss her from our home, dear mother, We miss thee from thy place. A shadow o'er our life is cast; We miss the sunshine of thy face. We miss thy kind and willing hand Thy fond and earnest care. Our home is dark without thee; We miss thee everywhere. Dearest mother, she has left us And our loss we deeply feel; But to God that has bereft us He can all our sorrows heal. Yet again we hope to meet thee When they day of life is fled When in Heaven in joy to greet thee.

Where no farewell tear is shed. We have lost our darling mother. She has bid us all adieu. She has gone to live in Heaven And her form is lost to view. Oh, that dear one, how we loved her.

Oh, how hard to give her up. But an angel came down for her. And removed her from our flock. 'Tis hard to break the tender cord When love has bound the heart; 'Tis hard, so hard to speak the words.

Must we forever part? Dearest loved one, we must lay thee to rest. In the peaceful grave's embrace, Till we see thy heavenly face. Farewell dear, but not forever. There will be a glorious dawn We shall meet to part no never On the Resurrection morn.

Darling mother, she has left us. Let us see her forever more. But we hope to meet our loved one on that bright and happy shore. Written by her granddaughter, Mrs. Nettie Pyle, 412 South Thirteenth Street, City.

FIFTY BILLS ARE FILED AFTER BEING SIGNED BY GOVERNOR

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, June 14.—Governor Moody today announced he had vetoed two measures passed by the 40th Legislature in special session.

They are: Providing for separation of public school affairs from municipal governments in cities having population of not less than 44,000 nor more than 45,000, because "author requested it be vetoed, there being no appropriation made to carry out its provisions." The law would have applied only to Georgetown.

Appropriation of $7,500 for a survey of the Davis Mountains as to feasibility of building an 80-mile "circle highway." Disapproved because "the highway commission has ample authority to undertake whatever projects it sees fit without necessity for specific appropriation."

Many Bills Signed.

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, June 14.—Fifty bills and three concurrent resolutions signed by Governor Moody were filed today with the Secretary of State.

Among them is the bill providing $1,600,000 each year for the next biennium for school aid and tuition for rural district transfers. The others include: Diminishing the criminal and civil jurisdiction of the county court of Bowie county and making district court jurisdiction conform.

Authorizing payment of taxes on county owned school land from revenues of land or county general fund.

Repealing Coleman county special road law.

Increasing jurisdiction of Trion county court.

Increasing jurisdiction of Sterling county court.

Advancing date of political State executive meetings one week thus allowing more time for announcement of results of votes.

Prohibiting dumping trash within 300 yards of public highway.

Exempting wild fox in West Texas from provisions of the general prohibitory wild game bill.

OTHER FLOGGINGS COME TO LIGHT AS INVESTIGATION OPENS

By Associated Press.
Toccoa, Ga., June 14.—With warrants issued charging them with participating in the flogging of Mrs. Anstey Bowers, two men, Floyd, 15, early Sunday the arrest of Elmer Clark, a railroad conductor, and Charles Thomas, railroad employee, was expected by authorities today.

W. J. Acres, principal of the Eastonville High School near here, and T. R. Lowry, foreman of a furniture factory, were arrested last night on similar charges, and released on bonds of $300 each, pending preliminary hearing.

The warrants for the arrest of the four men were issued yesterday, Floyd Bowers swearing that he recognized them as four of the twelve men who took him and his mother from their home near the public square here shortly before daybreak Sunday. Both Acres and Lowry declared they knew nothing of the affair.

Mrs. Bowers and Floyd were taken six miles from town and the woman beaten into unconsciousness. Then her son was lashed. The boy told authorities that the men told him he was whipped because he "got sassy," and that his mother was accused of helping a "bad character" was quoted as telling authorities the flogging resulted from a "false report" circulated about her.

Five other floggings in recent weeks came to light, following the whipping of Mrs. Bowers. Three other women and two men have been taken from their homes by masked mobs and flogged, but no action had been taken as the victims feared further punishment at the hands of the mobs, it was said.

GERMAN PROMOTER THREATENS TO SEIZE COLUMBIA FOR DEBT

By Associated Press.
Berlin, June 14.—A conference this afternoon between the legal representatives of Charles A. Levine and Dr. Puppe, German financial promoter, brought a satisfactory personal compromise, definitely removing the possibility of attachment of the trans-Atlantic monoplane Columbia.

Dr. Puppe had threatened attachment if a sum, the amount of which was not made public, were not paid him for work he claimed to have done in promoting negotiations for a loan on behalf of Levine with various steel mills in Germany two years ago.

Under the terms suggested by the lawyers, both parties will make apologies, and Levine will pay a sum to Dr. Puppe. The agreement will be tendered to Levine for his ratification upon his return tomorrow from Baden-Baden, where he went with Clarence Chamberlin, the Columbia's pilot, for a rest.

The German government and the Luftwaffe German Air League played the part of mediators in the controversy, according to Embassy circles.

TEXARKANA MAN NEVER HEARD OF CHAS. LINDBERGH

By Associated Press.
Texarkana, Texas, June 14.—There is "a perfectly normal man residing in the corporate limits of Texarkana, a city of over 30,000 population, who has never heard of Charles Lindbergh. He admits it. The man, whose name is intentionally omitted, operates a small suburban store. Monday, a customer made some comment on the amount of publicity given to the young flier.

"Who is this fellow Lindbergh, and what did he do?" queried the store keeper. The dumbfounded customer tried to explain, with much embarrassment.

"Well, you see, I don't have much time to read the papers," said the unique American.

RAIL AND HIGHWAY TRAFFIC RENDERED INSECURE BY RAINS

St. Louis-Southwestern trains through Corsicana Tuesday morning were routed via Hillsboro over the branch line, then to Hubbard over the Trinity & Brazos Valley where they connected with the main line again.

The detour was caused by high water near Purdon in Navarro county which came as the result of the heavy rains of Monday.

According to members of the train crew of the eastbound passenger train due here at 10:45 a. m. and arrived at 2 p. m., about two miles of track is under water with some of the track washed off the dump. It has not been announced when the regular schedule will be re-established and the damage repaired.

The Southern Pacific Lines, the Trinity & Brazos Valley, and the Interurban lines are maintaining their regular schedules. Bus lines operating out of Corsicana made no attempt to maintain their schedule Tuesday morning because of the road conditions with the exception of the Fort Worth bus which left at the usual time.

Highways in Bad Condition.
Cars leaving Corsicana were able to travel in two directions only Tuesday following the heavy rain Monday afternoon and night, and all other roads leaving Corsicana were reported impassable because of mud and high water.

Traffic was going through to East Texas by way of Kerens and the tramway, but chains were essential and even then the going was slippery. It was also possible for light traffic to get to Ennis, although there was a bad stretch of road north of Ennis. The Palmer bottom was impassable and all traffic was being routed to Dallas and Fort Worth by Ennis, Waxahatchie and Midlothian.

Travel to the south was stopped when Richardson creek left its banks and flooded the bottom. The road to Dawson and Waco was also impassable because of mud and high water. The same condition existed on the road to Barry and Blooming Grove.

All roads to the oil fields were reported extremely heavy and only light cars with chains were getting through and these reported lots of trouble.

The rain is reported to have extended north into Oklahoma and Texas and in many places impassable because of high water and mud. Roads in all parts of Oklahoma and Southern Kansas were reported heavy.

Lightning Strikes Home.
Lightning struck the residence occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Will Shields, 1630 West Seventh avenue, Monday afternoon during the rain and electrical storm. Mrs. Shields suffered severe burns from the lightning down on her left arm and is confined to her bed as the result of the shock.

The flue in the house was torn out and a hole was knocked in the roof. The house is the property of Mrs. L. Q. White.

OFFICERS WATCHING FOR MEXICANS WHO LEFT PRISON FARM

By Associated Press.
Houston, Texas, June 14.—Police here Tuesday were patrolling the haunts of the Mexican underworld in an effort to pick up 21 Mexican convicts who escaped from the Blue Ridge state prison farm Monday night. Other officers were searching the woods between the farm and Houston.

The "break" was made while 64 convicts were eating supper. Two dozen dropped, one at a time, through a hole in the floor under the table.

A farm steward, who saw two of the convicts walking off, gave the alarm. Two packs of dogs under Dog Sergeant Ben Gayle and J. M. Gamble located three of the convicts in the grass near the farm buildings.

H. B. Flaughn of Little Rock, Ark., was here Tuesday.

L. A. Clark, J. C. Thompson and H. K. Lindsey of Dallas were in the city Tuesday.

HEAVY RAINS OVER COUNTY WITH SOME DAMAGE TO LANDS

The rain which started falling in Corsicana Monday at noon continued through the afternoon and amounted to 2.30 inches, according to the government gauge.

The rain was general and some sections of the county report a much heavier rain than fell in Corsicana.

There was same wind with the rain but very little damage has been reported. Several trees were blown down in Corsicana, which was the extent of the damage done here.

Land in some sections of the county was washed but otherwise there was no material damage to crops. Grain that had not been cut was damaged, but very little remained unharvested.

The government records show that 2.28 inches of rain has fallen in Navarro county in June which is more than has fallen in any of the previous months this year. That amount of rain is unusual for the first half of June.

A total of 24.02 inches has been recorded so far this year. In January 1.96 inches fell, in February 3.52, in March 4.63, in April 4.71, in May 3.92 and so far this month 5.28. The average yearly rainfall in Navarro county is 38 inches.

AVERAGE RAINFALL IN PAST 24 HOURS INCH AND ONE-HALF

By Associated Press.
Dallas, Texas, June 14.—Rainfall overpassed the cotton belt Monday night and Tuesday morning, bringing reports of great benefit to agriculture from numerous points in Texas.

Precipitation in the 24 hour period ending at 7 a. m. Tuesday averaged slightly less than an inch and a half.

Dallas rainfall was 1.09 inches and at McKinney 1.35 inches were recorded. The Trinity river rose rapidly to a 15-foot level Tuesday morning and was expected to reach bankfull by night.

Belton reported 4 inches, Allene 5.0, Corpus Christi 3.4, Palestine 3.2 and Taylor 2.28.

Heavy at San Antonio.
By Associated Press.
San Antonio, Texas, June 14.—Continuing intermittently all night, San Antonio and vicinity received a total of 3.31 inches of rain. The precipitation was general over Southwest Texas. Del Rio reported three-quarters of an inch.

Fort Worth District Gets Heavy Rain

By Associated Press.
Fort Worth, Texas, June 14.—Fort Worth and vicinity was visited by a 1.59 inch rain Monday and early today, which damaged telephone lines temporarily, and hampered traffic for a short time, but benefiting crops immeasurably in the opinion of county agricultural agents.

Railroad officials here reported weather along their lines as follows: Texas and Pacific: Light, steady rains from Baird to Texarkana.

Rock Island—Heavy rains from Fort Worth to Graham.

Frisco—Precipitation heavy from Sherman to Menard.

Fort Worth and Denver—Good rains from Texline to Fort Worth.

Brazos Recedes After Quick Rise

By Associated Press.
Waco, Texas, June 14.—After a rapid rise, following 6.05 inches of rain in twenty-four hours up to seven o'clock Tuesday morning, the Brazos river began receding today. By ten o'clock it had fallen to 34 feet.

Water last night seeped into the lowlands of East Waco and lapped at River Side Drive, scenic Cameron Park road, but principal damage was washing of gravel from many city streets and soaking of merchandise in basements.

U. S. COURT OF APPEALS REVERSED TEXAS DECISION

By Associated Press.
New Orleans, June 14.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook was refused a five year probation when the United States Court of Appeals reversed the decision of the Court of the United States District of Northern Texas.

Dr. Cook's fight for freedom goes back over a period of three years to a time shortly following his being found guilty in November, 1924, of dealing in spurious oil stock. His appeal was refused by the higher court in February 1925, but a few months later Dr. Cook requested Henry Wilson, trial judge in the Northern Texas District to grant him five years probation. The request was granted.

Henry Zweifel, United States District Attorney at Fort Worth, however, declared that Judge Wilson had no authority to grant such a parole and the case went to the United States Court of Appeals at New Orleans.

An appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States is the only recourse left for Dr. Cook, it is said. He is serving a 14-year sentence at Fort Leavenworth federal prison.

W. J. Reilly of Tyler was in Corsicana Tuesday.

VISITORS AND HOME FOLK

Comment on the Uniform International Sunday School Lesson

For June 19, 1927.

Read 1 Peter 2.

WM. SOUTHERN, JR.

Peter Teaches Good Citizenship (Temperance Lesson)

1 Peter 2: 11-17; 4: 1-6

1 Peter 2: 11. Beloved, I beseech you as sojourners and pilgrims, to abstain from fleshly lusts, which war against the soul;

12. having your behavior seemly among the Gentiles; that, wherein they speak against you as evil-doers, they may by your good works, which they behold, glorify God in the day of visitation.

13. Be subject to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake: whether to the king, as supreme; 14. Or unto governors, as sent by him for vengeance on evil-doers and for praise to them that do well.

15. For so is the will of God, that by well-doing ye should put to silence the ignorance of foolish men:

16. as free, and not using your freedom for a cloak of wickedness, but as bond servants of God.

17. Honor all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the king.

4: 1. Forasmuch then as Christ suffered in the flesh, arm ye yourselves also with the same mind; for he that hath suffered in the flesh hath ceased from sin.

2. that ye no longer should live the rest of your time in the flesh to the lusts of men, but to the will of God.

3. For the time past may suffice to have wrought the desire of the Gentiles, and to have walked in lasciviousness, lusts, winebibblings, revellings, carousings, and abominable idolatries.

4. wherein they think it strange that ye run not with them into the same excess of riot, speaking evil of you;

5. who shall give account to him that is ready to judge the living and the dead.

6. For unto this end was the gospel preached even to the dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit.

Golden Text.—Love worketh no ill to his neighbor.—Rom. 13: 10.

(Text is from the American Standard Edition of the Revised Bible copyright, 1901, by Thomas Nelson & Sons, and used by permission.)

When we are off on a visit we are always on our good behavior.

As a matter of fact, we are always careful to give no offense and to follow the law. This is usually given a welcome, but let a stranger rub up against some of our pet ideas of "neat" at our customs and we are not very much pleased.

This is one of the big reasons for the hatred of Americans in France and the almost riots which were reported in the newspapers.

American tourists of a kind sneering at the French, bragged about winning the war, and even went so far as to paste the paper from their baggage to show contempt for the money of the country. Of course the French resented this and the disturbances followed.

In his letter to the churches of Asia Minor, written when he was an old man in Rome, Peter announced the doctrine that we are merely sojourners and pilgrims here, that this life is not home at all, but a place where we are preparing for home, an anteroom only. He argued that as this was the case we ought to behave ourselves and to pay less attention to the things which seem attractive here, that they really did not matter at all because we were only going to be here a little while.

Edwin Markham, poet, who wrote "The Man With The Hoe" and "Lincoln," says that the spiritual begins where science leaves off and that the poet deals in the spiritual things. He claims that to be a poet one must have imagination and inspiration because the poet goes into realms where the cold, hard, scientific fact has no place. The spiritual, following his argument, is not the intellectual, but the heart, the feelings, love and hope, with the intellectual.

In this country we get twisted values. Our men wear themselves out to get money. Our women wear themselves out in social affairs. When some speaker talks about spiritual affairs we do not understand at all. It is a strange language. We know about the pleasures of the senses. We indulge in eating and drinking and physical pleasures until they cease to be pleasures.

In the not far future we lose this body and with it lose every so called pleasure many of us have known. I often think how lonesome in heaven will be the man or woman who has never known the joy of spiritual pleasure here. The old man who is worn out and responds no longer to the pleasures of the young, may still revel in great music, in great thoughts, in communion with great minds thinking in terms of eternity.

From the very beginnings Christianity has taught obedience to law. Jesus many times delivered the lesson. Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's. A Christian, community, is a law-abiding community. A Christian is a law-abiding citizen.

A score of years after the death of Jesus, his disciples preached this doctrine under the most adverse circumstances. They taught obedience to the secular laws and appealed to his Roman citizenship. Peter became the leader of the church and in his letter to the churches in Asia Minor, when a tyrant was on the throne and when Christians were subjected to scorn and brutality because of their religion, Peter counseled law obedience as a natural part of the duty of a Christian. The letter we know as 1 Peter and was probably written in Rome some years before the death of Peter.

There were many Gentiles in these churches. They had no religious training as had the Jews. It was a day when greed, dishonesty, hatred, and every variety of immorality prevailed. In those days when a Gentile was converted and became a Christian he had a hard job ahead of him. It was indeed a new doctrine when he was taught not to indulge in the orgies in which everybody else indulged.

Word had come to Peter in Rome that men and women were misbehaving in the Christian churches. They were living just as wickedly as those about them who were not Christians. Peter wrote this remarkable letter and sent copies of it to the churches to be read to the members. It was so fine that the manuscript was preserved, copies made from the original and copies made from the copies, until when the New Testament was compiled the letter became one of its precious books.

Fourth of July speeches seem to have gone out of style, but I think they should be revived. No better fourth of July speech could be made than will be found in this letter written by Peter to the Christians of the first century. Only a few changes in words will be necessary. It would read like this:

"Obey ever law of man for your own sake and for the sake of your country and your freedom, whether it be the law against adultery or drunkenness or putting out dirty literature. Have respect for your officials whom you have elected, whether they belong to your own political party or not. Honor your President, your governors and even your city council. For this is a part of good citizenship and good Christians are good citizens. By doing this you will put to silence the ignorance of foolish men; you are free and should not put your freedom for a cloak to wickedness. Love your country and believe in God."

If every man and woman whose name is on the roll of a Christian church in this United States, should from this moment themselves obey the laws, respect the constituted authority and insist on law enforcement there would be no question of nullification of the eighteenth amendment, there would never be a question of patriotism.

This nation would respond with such a glory of prosperity and happiness that sordid poverty would disappear and we would soon be able to understand that there are far greater joys to be had than the pleasure of pandering to our senses, than the fun of making a night of it.

If Christians would live according to their profession, as Old Peter nearly two thousand years ago suggested, there would be no question about nullification and the political platforms which will be made next year would be almost copied from Peter's great letter.—The Republic Syndicate.

BONDING COMPANY AGENTS WILLING TO PAY HEAVY FINES

By Associated Press.
Dallas, Texas, June 16.—Seeking to escape facing trial here on July 18 on charges of kidnaping, Fred C. Simmons and Milton T. Shafer, agents of a California Bonding Company, indicted for abducting C. C. Compton from Dallas, Thursday offered to plead guilty and pay a fine of $500 each.

The offer was refused by Robert Hurt, assistant district attorney, who told them that District Attorney William McCraw is out of the city and that such an agreement would have to be approved by him.

INTERESTING STORY OF SCENES MET BY CORSICANA TOURISTS

EXCERPTS FROM DIARY KEPT OF FOREIGN TRAVELS BY LOUIS WOLENS

Following are excerpts from a diary which is being kept by Louis Wolens of the trip abroad being enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. K. Wolens and son, Louis. The descriptions included in this article cover the travels of the party from Marseilles on the Mediterranean to Alexandria, Egypt, and are as follows:

Goodbye Marseilles, Goodbye France Forever, May 17th, 1927. At twelve noon we were driven by the hotel bus driver to the airport. After the customary tipping, we were led into the custom house and our baggage was thrown upon a table ready for inspection; however, the inspector asked us in a very kindly tone if we carried any gold, and upon our answering in the negative he allowed us to go through without examining our luggage; however, he accepted our five franc note with hidden approval. It seems that they are very desirous of keeping gold in the boundaries of France, and to its scarcity, as if anyone could carry any gold with them after having spent ten days in Paris. It is almost like rubbing salt in an open wound; first they inveigle you in every conceivable way to spend your money while in their domain, then search you to see that you don't carry any gold with you when you leave. The porter who had grabbed our luggage, had tied a strap through the handles and then swung backward and forward over his shoulders. He did not heed my cautions to be careful, but succeeded in reaching our cabins without mishap. We were stopped at the gang plank as our tickets read Mr. and Mrs. Wolens and enfante, and they did not believe that I fit in this description; however, after much jabbering they conceded the folks the privilege to adopt me, and away we went, they sneering at me openly and I cussing them silently.

Maritima, Truly a Mansion Our cabins, fair sized, well lighted and airy rooms were desirably located on the deck directly beneath the promenade, and twice the size of the rooms on the Levantian. After a short lounge around the promenade watching the few foreign workers on the docks beneath us, and the few smaller boats that were lying idly in the harbor, the boat was casually untied, and a small tug pulled us through the narrow paths of the harbor out into the route it was destined to follow. Our early passage lay along several small islands and jagged rocks that protruded from the placid waters.

Marseilles really looked to be an ancient city as we noisily drew away, and in the calm of the mid-day it seemed that the city was a huge picture which gradually dimmed and dimmed as the boat gathered power. Now that we were aboard it was time we acquainted ourselves with our new abode. We went in wonder from conversation room to writing room, to music room, the reading room and were enthralled with the beauty of the rooms. I would have never believed that a boat would be so beautiful.

Every ceiling and wall was covered with Egyptian emblems, pictures and tapestries. Everything in perfect harmony, the color of the straight cut Egyptian characters and Sphinxes and other quaint emblems that have made Egypt a land of mystery was in exact match with the designs of the rich carpets and rugs. It is truly a mansion of mystery.

The conversation room excels all in grandeur, with its running fountain of water, surrounded by marble curves filled with beautiful daisies and vivid French flowers. It makes you feel that you are in a well-kept garden but the presence of the furniture and other interior adornments makes it nothing short of a palace room. I reposed in one of the stuffed armchairs, closed my unbelieving eyes and pictured castles, gardens and splendor supreme.

Small Court Aboard The Marietta Pacha is the finest boat sailing the Mediterranean, and has first class accommodations for three hundred passengers. However, this is the off season for Egyptian and Palestinian travel, and only twenty-six passengers were aboard first class. Everything was at our service, an orchestra rendered music four times a day. The staff of twenty cabin stewards and twelve dining room stewards were at our beck and call, darting after us at every move as if we were indeed some nobility. I felt ill at ease with such unwavering attention and it was not until the second day aboard that I felt intimate enough to call the stewards by their first name. Not one of them could speak English and only a couple could be made to understand your wants.

We had considerable difficulty in the dining room trying to make them know how hungry we were, but the problem was solved when the head waiter conveyed the idea of bringing all the dishes to us, and let us choose what we preferred; and what meals, I was convinced that the French are superb cooks, and a French cook can have free reign in kitchen every time. Such pastries, I was beginning to believe that all the French pastries are made in America, but no, you should see the cakes, desserts, and pastries showered upon us at each meal. I call it a work of science and the palatable manner in which they cook their desserts makes my mouth water when mentioning it could just live on their desserts.

but not in France. Of the twenty-six passengers six of us were Americans; luckily for us or we would not have had anyone to converse with the entire journey. Not a single member of the ship's crew from the Captain down could be made to stop the boat to rescue a passenger, if the appeal was made in English.

See What's Aboard Our first afternoon aboard, we were summoned to the promenade deck by the ringing of an alarm, and after many gestures and demonstrations, we were told to go down to our cabins and get our life belts, and were shown how to put them on. Then we were assigned to our life boats and told to come to these definite boats when the bell rang; one of the crew indicated the bell when he expected the boat to sink and that I wanted an oar as I didn't see one in my boat. Finally he shook his head in unintelligible despair, and when I had one of the Americans who could speak some French convey my query, he answered that if I did not stop talking that I was liable to tip the boat over at any time. I told him that I had tipped everything else in France so it didn't make much difference to me.

Believe when they untied the life belts, we were shown in their jesting manner that some form of amusement was to be held in a small juvenily-decorated room. I sat down on a bench made for a three year old and watched a primitive and French exhibition of a Punch and Judy performance. I now understood why our tickets read Mr. and Mrs. Wolens and enfante, while we Americans got over Tom and Jerry. As I could not understand the jabbering of the French dummies, I asked and granted myself permission to leave in the midst of the show, leaving the giggling Frenchman to believe that I had more important business, or else was going out for the child.

Having exploited first class I ran over to second class to see what was going on over there, and to my surprise and pleasure I found twenty-two American ladies, real housewives, who were from California men who could drink their quart of wine without sitting around all day to do it. They were bound for India in the services of the Standard Oil company, to fill a drilling program. They had lost two members of their crew between Paris and Marseilles, having drunk too much of the French liquor and attempting to put the conductor off the train. The train was stopped at a station and twenty-five officers managed to take the heavily laden members of the party to the French coast, the proud of the Americans from the war.

Water, Water! Everywhere At five the second morning out I was awakened by the steward, whom I had requested to notify me every time we saw land; and to my supreme pleasure I was told that we were passing through the straits of Bonifacio between the islands of Sardinia and Corsica. I was greatly interested because I had heard that the water was good after and by a native of Corsica and I was anxious to see our city's namesake.

It seems that everything happens at night in France, and it certainly held true on the sea. My cabin steward who was getting real chummy with me, addressing me with all kinds of terms in French, was very diligent in my behalf, and on the evening of the second day he entered my room without knocking and awoke me with the word Stromboli. It looked at him with surprise and asked "what for it?" He grabbed the leg of my pajamas and indicated for me to follow him, but I had learned my lesson from following people in Paris, so he indicated that we continued to look at him perplexed.

Finally he lit a match and thumped it over his head, fearing that perhaps there was a fire aboard, I ran down the aisle to awaken the folks and with them behind me rushed to the promenade deck, where all the other members of the boat, though dressed, were leaning over the rail looking at a huge mountain which we seemed to be brushing against. I singled out one of the Americans and asked him what all the excitement was about and he told me it was the Volcano Stromboli and that it had been very active lately.

I continued to gaze at this tremendous cone shaped mountain which appeared dormant in the moonlight night. However, it did not remain so long for a bright light seemed to gather at the crest. In another second a scarlet puff arose as from a furnace, then a fiery red blaze shot high above the top of the cone, throwing a red glare hundreds of yards about. The clear skies were reddened by this upheaval, but it soon died down and all was still and void of color once more. We had been silent spectators, and fortunately, these boiling embers from the seething inferno gave forth its belching excess of gas and blaze just at the moment we were passing.

At the foot of this volcano unnumbered of this seething crater above which is likely to scatter death and disaster, lives a fearless community of people who gather up the sulphur thrown up by the volcano during its eruptions. There was not a light in their homes, and they were peacefully sleeping indifferent to the danger about.

Land Aho! But No Time To Stop On the morning of the 19th, about 4 a. m. my steward notified me that something was doing starboard; so I slipped in my robe and again marched to the deck above. We were passing through the straits of Messina which is between Italy and Sicily. I ran from one side of the deck to the other first looking at Italy then to take a squint at Sicily. The town of Messina on the Sicilian side was brightly lit up and we had no difficulty making out the little villages as we passed along. It had the appearance of a long range of low hills. We were about two hours passing and when I was assured that we could not get off or content with this initial impression of Italy and Sicily.

My steward had nothing to do until the following morning when he came in and I thought he wanted to help me dress as it was past nine. He shrugged his shoulders as if shivering and I feared he had the ague, then he pointed to my shirt which was white when new, and then let the water run. I didn't like this insinuation that my shirt needed washing and wondered that he dared suggest it, but he would not move until I had finished dressing; then he led me on deck and showed me the purpose of his simple explanation. I had no trouble in seeing the snow covered mountains which loomed in a continuous range approximately about seven miles away. This was the island of Crete, and I was told that at one time it was a part of Greece, but that the water had separated it; yet scientists say that water and oil won't mix. It was a beautiful sight these snow capped hills and mountains which seemed to laugh at the balmy May day; however, I don't think the snow will remain much longer as the glasses revealed that it had already melted away in spots.

Due to the small passenger list we are a day ahead, May 21, 1927. We arrive in Alexandria on the 21st a day ahead of schedule. The waters have been so calm and placid that scarcely a wave is noticeable. It has the appearance of an immense lake, and the mild balmy weather has made this unexpected journey very agreeable. Really it has passed too quickly, as I was commencing to know the French passengers well enough to smile at them. Yet, the new environment should reveal a greater interest; so here goes.

LITTLE CREDENCE PLACED IN REPORTS OF RESCUE OF TWO MISSING FRENCH AVIATORS

By Associated Press.
Quebec, Que., June 16.—A rumor that Nungesser and Goll, missing French aviators, had been found in the Shipshaw river, was generally discredited today.
The rumor originated in a telephone conversation an employee of a large corporation in the district had with his mother in Quebec city, where he is said to have told her the missing fliers were there alive and safe. Government officials and lumber companies, however, declared they could find no confirmation of the report.
They said the rumor probably was based on fumes seen in the country northeast of Saguenay river, which it was thought might

WEATHER OVER ATLANTIC HAS CAUSED POSTPONEMENT FLIGHT TO PARIS BY COMMANDER BYRD

By Associated Press.
New York, June 16.—With his tri-motored Fokker monoplane America fueled an provisioned for its projected flight to Paris, Commander Richard E. Byrd today faced a probable delay of several days in his take-off due to unfavorable weather conditions.
Atmospheric conditions over the Atlantic could hardly be worse than at present, the weather bureau announced.
"There is no chance for a trans-Atlantic flight by Friday," said Forecaster James Scarr, who also declared the outlook after tomorrow is not very good.
Commander Byrd had previously

FLOGGING VICTIMS FOUND AND WILL BE RETURNED TO SCENE

By Associated Press.
Sherman, Texas, June 14.—Federal District Attorney Randolph Bryant has been advised by the Department of Justice that agents have been sent to Marshall, Texas, to investigate floggings happening near that place and that he was expecting reports from them Tuesday.

Reward for Floggers.
By Associated Press.
Marshall, Texas, June 14.—W. A. Strapps, wife and three children were located this afternoon on the farm of E. E. Gibson, about five miles from Longview, by State Ranger Joseph Osabans, and are being brought to Marshall.
The Chamber of Commerce this afternoon offered a $1250 reward for the arrest and conviction of the masked men who Wednesday night flogged Strapps and wife and J. H. Richardson and wife.

DEVELOPMENTS COME FAST IN MARSHALL'S ALLEGED FLOGGINGS

By Associated Press.
Marshall, Texas, June 14.—County Attorney John Taylor last night said he was confident he would be able to locate and return W. A. Strapps and family today.
Strapps and wife are two of four victims of a masked band who last Wednesday visited two homes in the western portion of the county. Mr. and Mrs. Strapps and three children disappeared from their home Sunday morning.
Developments came thick and fast yesterday. An investigation of the possible peonage angle of the case has been promised by Randolph Bryant, federal district attorney. Governor Moody has assigned two additional Rangers to assist local officers in the investigation and the county attorney has stated that a special session of the grand jury would be asked for as soon as information in hand justified the action.

FAR FROM CENTERS NATION'S POPULATION PRESIDENT RESTS

By Associated Press.
Rapid City, S. D., June 16.—A racing mountain trout stream called to President Coolidge today and after several hours of angling he returned to the summer White House proudly showing a fine catch.
Accompanied by Cecil Gideon, former game keeper in the State Park, the President drove from the lodge in a White House limousine to a neighboring stream and there under the expert guidance of Gideon angled for his first catch of the summer in the swift moving waters.
Mr. Coolidge has had previous experience with fishing but in these new surroundings he was eager to take advice from the South Dakotan who has been slated to be the President's fishing companion during the summer.

By Associated Press.
Rapid City, S. D., June 16.—Far from the centers of population, President Coolidge turned to a new life today in the Black Hills of South Dakota, where pine covered mountains and wild game almost hedged him from the outside world.
In the center of 36 square miles of forests he has set up the summer White House in the State game lodge where for the next two months or so he will live in a region skirting the great farming regions of the Northwest.
It was the farthest west Mr. Coolidge has been since he became president and no chief executive before him had traveled this far from Washington to live for such an extended period. In the quiet retreat which will be his home he had an ideal setting for rest and relaxation.

Within a stone's throw of the game lodge, mountain streams abounding in spirited trout, awaited him should he care to angle and for both himself and Mrs. Coolidge shaded paths carpeted with the fallen pine needles of many years gave a promise of many pleasant hours of walking.
Solitude and natural scenery of charm and distinction enclosed them from all sides.

Business As Usual.
While Mr. Coolidge acclimated himself to his new surroundings and rested from the fatiguing two-day journey from Washington, which necessitated many public appearances, his secretary, Everett Sanders, and the White House staff moved rapidly to perfect arrangements for carrying on the executive end of the Nation's business.
Space in the Rapid City High School had been set aside for their use and Mr. Sanders and Edward T. Clark, the President's private secretary, will be stationed there to keep Mr. Coolidge in constant touch with the National capital. Plans of President Coolidge had not been definitely worked out, but it was expected he would motor the 32 miles from the game lodge three or four times a week to meet visitors and transact business in the executive office. Several truck loads of files which came west with him on his special train already were in their places in the offices.

Instant communication has been provided by the Lodge and the offices in Rapid City over private wires and another wire connects the offices with Washington. Although the trip to the game lodge is a good hour's ride, it is over a fine gravelled road and is easy motoring.

IMPORTANT TOPICS HAVE BEEN INJECTED INTO FRISCO SESSION

By Associated Press.
San Francisco, June 16.—Sex freedom and liberalism continued the leading topics for informal discussion among delegates to the National Congress of the Protestant Episcopal church here today as they weighed the words of two church leaders who had sharply attacked the existing order of religion and morality.
While the delegates last night listened in polite silence as Rev. William Norman Guthrie, rector of St. Mark's, in The Bowwies, New York, shouted, "The New Testament is a book written by a lot of chumps who were thick in the head," the younger generation was paying attention to Rev. Henry Lewis, Ann Arbor rector.
Rev. Mr. Lewis, who had created a stir by suggesting the church might profit by adopting a more tolerant attitude toward "unmarried unions," supplemented his address by declaring the "companionate marriage" idea of Judge Ben B. Lindsey offered a basis for a possible solution of "promiscuity and other evils."

Promiscuity Increases.
"Promiscuity among college girls is increasing greatly," said Rev. Mr. Lewis. "During my five years at Ann Arbor I have dealt with several thousand young college men and women. Their problems are moral ones, and while their aims are all right, they are badly confused.
"Is there any reason why the church should not recognize the problems of sex? Sex is a beautiful part of life; there is nothing nasty about it."
Denominationalism, foreign missionaries and other things were given some vigorous treatment by Rev. Mr. Guthrie.
"Protestantism," he said, "is as dead as the dodo. It has to paint itself red to look interesting. Christianity has lost precious things—things Greek, Egyptian and Roman. We must recover our connections with the primitive.

Christianity must recover Jesus. "You can't shoot Christianity into the people of the Orient either with bullets or dromedars."
"I don't believe in foreign missions. I don't expect you to agree with me. I don't want people to agree with me."
Christians Are Unchristian.
"We Christians are about as unchristian as any people on earth. If we realized how unchristian we are, we would be profoundly humble. You may ask if I believe in Christianity. That depends upon what you mean by Christianity. If you mean the reincarnation of the historical Christ in the man God my answer is yes. But if you mean the scholasticism of the year 250 A. D., or the formalism of the Nicene creed, my answer is no. God never intended anything like that."

"The New Testament was written by a lot of chumps who were thick in the head. They were thick heads, but their thickness served Christ, for He was a genius and knew how to make them serve."

ANOTHER TEST IS BEING DRILLED IN SHALLOW DISTRICT

Another test is being drilled in the Chambers Creek area east of Corsicana by the Magnolia Petroleum Company on the Gago farm, about a mile west of the Hardy lease and just across the road from the Phillips' Chapel school house. The well was started several days ago and is now around 1300 feet. It will be a shallow test, to an approximate depth of 1700 feet.

The Magnolia Hardy B-4 in the Chambers Creek area has been plugged and abandoned. This was the fourth hole drilled on the Magnolia Hardy lease and is the first dry hole that has been found. The other three wells are producing an aggregate of 200 barrels per day.
One ear load of casing has been secured for the Magnolia McPherson 1, Trinity sand test at Rice, which located a sand more than a week ago, and has been shut down until 4350 feet of open hole could be enclosed. The second ear is expected to reach Corsicana in a few days and will be run as soon as it arrives. There is still some dealing in leases and royalty in the Rice sector.
The Stenbrauch 1, Trinity sand test at Mexico, which has been flowing more than ten million feet of gas per day for some time, is reported flowing stronger and blowing some sand from the hole.

as it cleans itself out. The well will be allowed to flow until the hole has been cleaned out and then it is expected that it will be made a commercial gas well to relieve the shortage in the Mexia fields.

With the finding of good gas production in the well at Mexia and the topping of a favorable sand in the well at Rice, interest is being revived in the Trinity sand. Two hard blows had been struck at this interest when the Peck well on the Rydal tract, near Ennis failed to find production and the Sun Company's test on the Swink tract between Richland and Currie was abandoned after twisting off a string of pipe in the hole.
A test being drilled in Hunt county by the Amarada Petroleum Company near Quinlan was being tested at 3176 feet Thursday according to reports reaching Corsicana. A slight showing of gas and oil has been found in the test. This well is thought to be in an extension of the fault sector which included Powell, Mexia, Richland and Currie and Wortham in the section of the country and had been attracting considerable interest from geologists and from operators.

THIEVING CONTINUES DESPITE FACT THAT GUILTY ARE CAUGHT

Thieving in Corsicana continues to be reported to the local police department, despite the fact that in most cases the guilty parties are finally caught and duly punished. Recently several cases of burglary and theft have been cleared up in Corsicana by the police officers and the guilty parties turned over to the county authorities where punishment was meted out in regular order.
On Monday Police Officers Nutt and Sheets arrested a white man and turned him over to the county on a charge of theft of property belonging to the Federal government. An army automatic, 45 caliber revolver and scabbard, and other articles of a military nature were found in the man's room when searched and this property was recovered. The revolver was the property of Sergeant Brown of a local military unit and it, with the other articles, were taken from the local armory, it was stated.
Another arrest was made by Officer Nutt when he caught Buck Alexander, a negro, in the act of taking an automobile belonging to Ed Baum.
A couple of lads are reported to have taken plumbing fixtures from

There is just one right way to keep the skin clear and smooth

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils and other skin eruptions as being an indication of an abnormal condition of the system. This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and painful annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S.

You owe it to yourself to try S.S.S. It helps Nature build up red corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the blood is nourished.

"I suffered from impure blood—was weak and I had lost so much weight. I didn't look natural. I had pimples and was also bothered with a breaking-out that itched terribly. I also had boils one after another. I tried different kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good until a friend advised me to take S.S.S., which I did. This was some time ago. Now I feel well, and I am getting along fine. S.S.S. stopped the itching and it cured me of boils. I advise all weak and run-down people to give S.S.S. a trial. It clears up the skin and makes you strong and fills you with energy." Mrs. J. W. Barker, 1337 Walnut Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

S.S.S. is made from the fresh roots of medicinal herbs and plants and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory. It is time-tried and reliable.

TWO GOOSE CREEK RESIDENTS REMAIN ON BRIDGE 25 HOURS

After having been marooned on Love Bridge on the Richland road about ten miles from Corsicana for more than 24 hours, H. H. Clements and A. L. Bolander of Goose Creek were taken off the bridge by a boat taken to the scene by the A. D. McKinney Motor Company, manned by E. P. Gaston, Deputy Sheriff McMurray, Wilbur Thompson and a representative of the Daily Sun. The men were brought to land at noon Wednesday.

The men had been traveling through the country and took the old road leading to Corsicana from Wortham and managed to ford the creek to the main bridge over the stream. Finding the water too deep to continue, they returned to the main bridge about 11 o'clock Tuesday morning.

The creek as it crosses the road is more than three-quarters of a mile wide, with several swiftly moving currents. At its normal stage the creek is little more than 60 feet wide.

Cars Are Marooned.

Two cars and a wagon are still marooned on the small bridge at the northern end of the concrete slab that leads up to the creek. A Chevrolet coupe and a truck of the same make were stranded on the approach to the small bridge about noon Tuesday and during the crest of the flood were washed down stream about a hundred yards and finally lodged against a boat if a thicker. The cars had been chained together. Occupants of the cars on the approach and on the small bridge were brought to shore by a negro with a team of mules, but the current was too swift to reach the main bridge.

The men on the bridge said that their greatest fears Tuesday night came from the logs craning against the bridge, which threatened to jolt the structure off its piers. The creek reached its highest stage shortly after midnight and began then to recede slowly, but by noon Wednesday the waters were only a foot lower than the peak.

First Rescue Effort Fails.

A trip was made to the creek late Tuesday by a party under Sheriff W. T. Wilson but it became dark before plans could be completed. Early Wednesday morning two boats with motors were taken to the creek and the rescue effected. Two boats went to the bridge, the larger contained Wilbur Thompson and Deputy Sheriff W. McMurray, and the other was manned by Earl Pressley and G. D. Dickson. The parties were brought to land in the larger boat, which was owned by W. A. Hammett. A third boat arrived at the creek just as the first two were landed, from Frank P. Woods' Hardware Co. but it was not launched.

The marooned party said that the cold drink stand which had been just south of the main bridge, had been washed down the stream several hundred yards. During the night the men shared the bridge with all kinds of animals from snakes to centipedes and rats.

BOY WAS SICK

Texan Tells How He Got Acquainted With the Good Work of Black-Draught as a Laxative.

Glenora, Texas.—"I had a sick spell when just fifteen years old," says Mr. George W. Maness, R.F.D. 2, this place. "Anyone who has had the chills, like I had, is apt to remember them. I was a sick boy—just lay around the home, weak. My skin was yellow and I could hardly stand up. I had hard chills.

"My father gave me quinine. Someone told him to give me Black-Draught with it. He brought some home, and they fixed it up like a tea. It wasn't very good, but I was so sick I would take anything.

"After a few days, I began to feel better. I was hungry and could eat. I kept on taking the tea for awhile, and I got well. I haven't had chills since then, but I have taken a lot of Black-Draught since that time. It is a family medicine with me."

Where assistance is needed in the way of a laxative or cathartic, Theford's Black-Draught should be taken as often as necessary, to open the bowels and put them in a healthy and normal state of activity.

Try it; it is a dose. NC-185

ANOTHER RANGER SENT TO MARSHALL RESULT FLOGGING

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, June 15.—Adjutant General R. L. Robertson today ordered an additional ranger to Marshall to assist the two already there in investigation of the recent flogging of four persons.

Private Ezelle already was in Marshall when the investigation was started and Private Osaba was sent from Austin Monday to join him.

Story of Flogging.

Dallas, Texas, June 15.—While Harrison county officials, aided by State Rangers were conducting a probe into the flogging of two families at Marshall last Wednesday, the night of the flogging the night she was spending the night with her half brother, W. H. Strawn, and his wife, Eva, who live on a farm adjoining her parents'.

"We were sitting on the porch when four masked men came, and she said. One of them hit my brother over the head with a pistol, then knocked me over in a corner and held his pistol on me while he turned Eva over a trunk and flogged her with a knotted rope. Then they flogged her husband. They did not whip me."

"That one of the men told me the best thing I could do was to return to Dallas. I told him I would. The next morning I went home and found that they had flogged my parents. I packed my suit case and started walking to town, but was picked up by a night man who took me into Marshall."

Miss Mills said she overheard one of the floggers tell the victim that they had better be in the field for work the next morning.

Special Term of Court.

By Associated Press. Marshall, Texas, June 15.—Judge P. O. Board has ordered a special term of District Court to be convened here at 8:30 o'clock Friday morning to investigate assaults and floggings alleged to have been committed against two families last Wednesday night.

The grand jury already has been selected and will be charged at 1 o'clock Friday forenoon. The Richardson and Strawn families are being provided for at a local hotel by friends. The negroes were unmercifully flogged by a band of four masked men. One man is free under bond on five counts.

Varnish or paint can be removed from a floor by scraping and abrading or by applying a chemical varnish remover. The first method is tedious, but is the only one that will give good results if the floor has been stained. After a floor has been scraped, planed or sanded, it can be finished as it were new.

The store has never had a soda fountain and has devoted its entire management to the sale of drugs and medicine.

All five of Dr. Johnson's sons are now in the store and are actively engaged in the management of the store.

Napoleon said, "Circumstances, I make circumstances." Successful men make their opportunities.

Opportunity consists of three things; all three in yourself. Determination, preparedness, alertness.

Today, more than ever, preparedness is necessary. That is the reason why "a savings account is the key to opportunity."

HINTS FOR FARM AND HOME

Furnished by the DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Green foliage is essential to the economic production of pork. Alfalfa, where it can be grown, undoubtedly is the best forage crop for hogs. On an average, one acre of permanent pasture is needed for each brood sow. If rapid gains are desired, hogs may be given a liberal allowance of grain. Exercise obtained in grazing exerts a beneficial influence on the health of swine.

Flies are common enemies of health. They breed in filth and from it they may carry contagion into the homes and to the food. On dairy farms they are attracted by the cattle, accumulations of manure, spilled milk and other feeding or breeding grounds. Special care should be taken to exclude them from places where milk is handled or stored. If they gain access to milk, or walk over milk utensils, they may leave dangerous contamination.

A study of the cost of living among 3,000 widely scattered farm families indicates that the average total value of goods and services used per family in one year is $1,504. Of this value $624 was furnished by the farm in food, fuel and housing.

The most important factor in the large spreads between prices received by producers and those paid by consumers of agricultural products is the cost of extensive services as a result of present day methods of living. The greater portion of the difference between producer price and consumer price is incurred in terminal markets.

A cow should return at least two dollars from a dollar's worth of feed. This is figuring farm value in both milk and milk. With proper management good cows may do much better.

One of the greatest sources of sour milk and low-grade dairy products is the unsterilized utensil. The tiny bacteria that cause scurrying, off-flavors, and sometimes sickness, grow very fast on the moist surfaces of unsterilized pails, strainers and cans. Although utensils have been well washed and appear clean to the eye, they are not really clean unless they have been sterilized.

TWO NEGROES ARE HELD ON CHARGES OF "WHITECAPPING"

By Associated Press.
Dallas, Texas, June 14.—A dusky Ku Klux Klan in embryonic state was broken up in the vicinity of Wilper, Texas, with the arrest of two negroes Sunday night, according to Dallas police.

Negro residents of that section said they were preparing for flight until the pair was arrested and charged with "whitecapping."

One resident reported to officers that he had found the following note pinned upon his front door: "Nigger, now is the time to get yourself away from this town. This ain't no nigger's town and if you all don't leave you must suffer the consequences. Signed, K. K. K."

The constable at Wilper arrested L. D. Alexander and Kelley McWade, negroes, and brought them to Dallas, where charges were filed Tuesday.

It is believed that the two blacks, unable to find employment, had posted the warning in an effort to frighten some of the others out of town, thereby relieving the unemployment situation.

BALTIMORE COWBOYS STAGE ROUNDUP FOR STAMPED-CATTLE

Baltimore, June 14.—City "cowboys" with shotguns today searched the "wilds" of a suburban section for twenty-four longhorn steers which stampeded from a packing company pen.

Frightened residents remained within locked doors as the animals maddened by the smell of blood at the slaughter house, ran among their cottages.

"Shoot to kill" was the order of "punchers" and five steers dropped in the gun fire. One man was rescued from a tree where he said three steers had chased him. Later the "round up" was reported complete.

FOUR MEN ESCAPE FROM STINNETT JAIL TUESDAY EVENING

By Associated Press.

Borger, Texas, June 15.—Four men who escaped from the county jail at Stinnett early last night are still free today, armed with three heavy calibre pistols and a supply of extra ammunition stolen from the jail's room.

The men escaped between 8:10 and 8:20 p. m. Tuesday while Jailer Bert Bryan was at supper in the cook shack 150 feet from the jail. Connecting the door knob with the window bars in their cell by two wet blankets with a broom stick until the door, previously weakened by sawing the tops of rivets from the lock, was pulled free. They then looted the jailer's room, put a screen from the run around window, and escaped on foot.

The men were: Hal Moore, convicted of burglary and sentenced to two years; Jack Dalton, charged with burglary; Roy Wilson, indicted on a charge of theft; Clayton Tontz, charged with robbery of the Borger railroad station.
